DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 7-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Regarding claims 7-13, these claims pertain to the embodiment of the specification when angle between the housings is used for zooming. Claim 1 recites limitations from a different embodiment using the operation key for zooming and the specification does not describe these two embodiments working together.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
6. Claim 17 recites the limitation "the operation key" in lines 5 and 9. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 1-6 and 14-16 and 18 are allowed.

Regarding claim 1, no prior art could be found that teaches or fairly suggests first electronic zooming means using hardware, second electronic zooming means using software, where clicking an operation key operates the first zooming means to display a picture nears a desired scale factor and continuously pushing the operation key operates the second zooming means to finely tune a zooming scale factor to display a picture to a desired scale factor in combination with the rest of the limitations of the claim.

Regarding claims 2-6 and 14-16, these claims depend on claim 1 and therefore are allowed.

Regarding claim 18, no prior art could be found that teaches or fairly suggests first electronic zooming means using hardware, second electronic zooming means using software, where clicking an operation key operates the first zooming means to zoom an object in large increments and continuously holding the operation key operates the second zooming means to zoom an object in small increments in combination with the rest of the limitations of the claim.

8. Claim 17 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Regarding claim 17, no prior art could be found that teaches or fairly suggests first electronic zooming means using hardware, second electronic zooming means using software, where clicking an operation key operates the first zooming means to display a picture nears a desired scale factor and continuously pushing the operation key operates the second zooming means to finely tune a zooming scale factor to display a picture to a desired scale factor in combination with the rest of the limitations of the claim.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6,693,667 Doron – optical and digital zooming

6,151,070 Sato et al. – optical and digital zooming

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
